What is meat in the forest?

Meat is a food item, that was added in update v0.11 to The Forest. Meat is one of the products of killing deer, crocodiles, tortoises, turtles, boar or raccoons. It was previously known as Generic Meat though its name was changed in v1.0. The meat can be placed on a drying rack, cooked over a fire, or added to a stew.

Do you need a skin rack in the forest?

In The Forest you're definitely going to have to make some Skin Racks if you plan to store extra animal hides. You can only carry 10 hides at a time which is a pretty low limit for how many you need for all different things. It's worth noting that the Skin Racks can hold more than the Armor Racks too -- however they take up more space.

How to preserve food in the wilderness?

When it comes to preserving food in the wilderness, there are several methods you can consider. Canning your food is a popular option as it allows for long-term storage. Invest in a portable canning kit and follow the proper canning procedures to ensure your food remains safe to consume.

Why is food storage important in the wilderness?

By doing so, you can maximize the shelf life of your stored food and avoid any food waste. No wilderness adventure is complete without preparing for emergency situations. Stocking up on non-perishable foods is essential in case of unexpected events or prolonged trips.
